

NeoRio 2010

art, nature, culture and community in confluence

Featuring Environmental Artist Lynne Hull

Her sculptures provide shelter, food, water or space for wildlife as eco-atonement for their loss of habitat due to human encroachment.

Wild Rivers Recreation Area, Questa New Mexico

Sept. 25th, 2pm-9pm & 26th, 11am-4pm cost is free and open to all

BLM day-use fee waived - camping is available at normal rates

Saturday

2pm - Visitor Center - Lynne Hull will present her environmental art lecture, "From Lascaux to Last Week" and will lead people on foot to a nearby location to create site-specific sculptures that provide habitat enhancement and prevent erosion.

Evening - Montoso Campsite – Campfire, Music, and Outdoor Film Screenings by guest artists - please bring your own drinks, chairs and a desert to share

Sunday

All Day - Tour Outdoor Sculptures and Participate in Special Events TBA

For more information visit www.leapsite.org or call 575-586-1150

NeoRio 2010 is hosted and sponsored by Bureau of Land Management, NM Wilderness Alliance, LEAP (Land, Experience and Art of Place), Wild Earth Studio, the Village of Questa and others